WELCOME TO AGUSTÍN LANÚS WINES

HIGH AND EXTREME ALTITUDE WINES

Dear Wine Lover,

It has been a very exciting year for our company, as discerning wine buyers from around the world increasingly discover the special qualities of wines grown at elevation, with our wine now available in China, the United Kingdom, France, Germany, the United States, Perú, Brazil and, of course, in all the major markets here in Argentina.

For our 2023 portfolio, we are pleased to continue our explorations of alternative wine making methods, and different varieties, including this year Criolla, Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc, Tannat, Bonarda, Syrah, Petit Verdot and, of course, Malbec. For white wine lovers, we once again offer our proprietary ToVio blend, a refreshing blend of Torrontés with 25% Viognier.

Complete tasting notes on all our currently available wines follow, as well as how to contact for more information. If you wish to place an order, remember, we are a specialist producer with limited vintages so please contact us at your earliest convenience.

Saludos!

ÍCONO 2017

Our flagship extreme altitude Malbec, Ícono is a rich blend from four micro-terroirs in the upper Calchaquí Valley, Luracatao 2,750 m.a.s.l., Pucará 2,400 m.a.s.l., Amaicha del Valle 2,200 m.a.s.l., and Hualfín 2,100 m.a.s.l. Aged in French oak barrels for 24 months.

AGUAYO 2017

An elegant old-style Malbec with two years of barrel and four years in bottle. Grapes from Hualfín, Catamarca at 2,100 m.a.s.l.

ILÓGICO Malbec 2019

Our most popular Extreme Altitude Malbec, Ilógico is priced to offer a great value for wine lovers wishing to experience the special qualities of wines grown at altitude. Made from three different micro-terroirs from upper Calchaquí Valley, Salta Province, Argentina.

ILÓGICO Criolla 2021

Produced with grapes from a small vineyard dating back hundreds of years in Cuchi Pampa, located more than 2,700 m.a.s.l. in Luracatao, Salta.
Typically served chilled, it is high quality wine with a long and storied history dating back to the conquistors in Argentina.

SALVAJE Luracatao 2020

Luracatao is the most remote place in the Calchaquí Valley, with very old and heavy soils with 300 years old farm located at 2,750 m.a.s.l.
SUNAL SALVAJE Luracatao is an expression of this vineyard in its purest and wildest state.

SALVAJE Cachi 2020

Like all of our Salvaje wines, SUNAL SALVAJE Cachi is produced with minimal intervention by the winemaker so that wine lovers can savor the special qualities of the terroir, in this case from vineyards located at 2,680 m.a.s.l. near the scenic Andean mountain town of Cachi, one of the highest vineyards in the world.

SALVAJE Pucará 2020

Located at 2,400 m.a.s.l., SALVAJE Pucará draws attention with a deep black color that tints the glass. Taming the intensity of the Pucará terroir was a beautiful challenge for winemaker Agustín Lanús, with wine lovers enjoying the result.

ÍCONO 2017

Malbec

GRAPE
100% Malbec.

ALTITUDE
2,100 -2,750 m.a.s.l.

NUMBER OF BOTTLES
Extremely limited, 6,000 Bottles

VINTAGE: 2017

TERROIRS: For SUNAL ÍCONO winemaker Agustín Lanús worked with grapes sourced from four small extreme altitude vineyards, located in three provinces that make up the Calchaquí Valley, Argentina: Salta, Tucumán and Catamarca provinces.

ALTITUDE: The vineyards are located between 2,100 m.a.s.l. and 2,750 m.a.s.l., making them among the highest in the world.

ELABORATION: The grapes are hand-harvested and the wine made using 100% native yeast, cold pre-fermentation for 5 days, soft maceration of 30 days in total, natural malolactic fermentation.

AGING: The wine is aged for 24 months in a mix of French oak, 50% new and 50% neutral used barrels. After being bottled, unfined and unfiltered, the wine has been aged for 12 months.

TASTING NOTES: The ultra-premium SUNAL Malbec wine is made from grapes grown at the very limits of where grapes can be grown. The length of time required for grapes to mature at such extreme altitudes results in thick skins and very low yields, allowing the winemaker to produce an incredibly complex and full-bodied wine. The color is a rich purple, with the nose dominated by balsamic notes and black fruits with floral scents and a long finish.

Extreme altitude malbec wine is a robust yet elegant wine made from four micro-terroirs in Argentina's Upper Calchaquí Valley: Salta: Luracatao 2,750 m.a.s.l. and Pucará 2,400 m.a.s.l., Tucumán: Amaicha del Valle 2,200 m.a.s.l., Catamarca: Hualfín, 2,100 m.a.s.l..

NUMBER OF BOTTLES
Extremely limited,
3,800 Bottles

VINTAGE: 2017

TERROIRS: Single two hectare vineyard located at 2,100 m.a.s.l. in Hualfín, Catamarca Province, Argentina. Very deep and loose sandy-clay soils, ditch irrigation from snow melt.

ELABORATION: Manually harvested, transported in boxes of 16 kg at night to Cafayate, double selection table. Fermented in a stainless steel tank with selected yeast, 7 days of pre fermentation at 10°C, then inoculated with selected yeast. Malolactic fermentation made naturally in used barrels.

AGING: Two years in barrels, then one year in bottles.

TASTING NOTES: Aguayo is an elegant example of a high altitude wine: complex and fresh from the natural acidity found in grapes grown at elevation. An old world style wine with a long finish in the mouth, Aguayo evokes a sense of dried cherries and black currants, with rose mosqueta floral notes and a soft mint finish.

- Hualfín, Catamarca: 2,100 m.a.s.l.

Sunal Ilógico 2019 is a true expression of a 100% extreme altitude Malbec offering a rich combination from three microterroirs from Alto Calchaquí Valley, Salta province, Argentina.

ELABORATION: Manually harvested, transported in boxes of 16 kg at night from the Upper Valley to Cafayate, double selection table. Spontaneous fermentation with indigenous yeast in concrete tanks, 25 days of maceration, natural malolactic fermentation.

AGING: 50% neutral barrel - 50% concrete egg for 15 months.

TASTING NOTES: Very intense dark violet color, aromas of black olives, rose hips, thyme, black fruits and delicate finish of cedar and oak. The tannins are muscular but very well integrated with a nice natural acidity that gives freshness and elegance.
